Headline:

Rain clearing to sunny spells today. A fine weekend.

Today:

A cloudy morning, with some light rain. Into the afternoon the rain begins to die out and the cloud breaks up giving sunny spells. Breezy, and cooler than of late. Maximum temperature 21 deg C (70 deg F).

Tonight:

Staying dry through the night with plenty of clear spells, though the a little low cloud may form over high ground through the small hours. Minimum temperature 11 deg C (52 deg F).

Saturday:

A fine and sunny day across the region once any early cloud has quickly burnt away. Perhaps some cloud moving in across Cumbria by the late afternoon. Maximum temperature 21 deg C (70 deg F).

Outlook for Sunday to Tuesday:

Warm and sunny on Sunday. A cloudy start to Monday with some rain, but a sunnier, drier afternoon with temperatures returning to normal. Another fine day on Tuesday.
